KUALA LUMPUR, Feb 22 (Bernama) – Research-driven biotech company Holista CollTech Ltd will ship its first portion of patented mix for healthier low-Glycemix Index (GI) noodles from Malaysia to Canada by end-February.

The patented mix comprises all-natural ingredients -- okra (ladies' fingers), lentils, barley and fenugreek.

"Subsequent shipments will be made from Canada and India as this would be logistically and economically more viable.

"This is also trial order for all parties concerned to develop the needed supply chains as the business is scaled up," the company said in a statement today.
